12 March 2026

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your Freedom of Information (Fol) request received on 12 February 2026. You wrote:

Would it be possible to also have the information in the first PDF (Total Number of Yellow Card Reports Recevied after the 1st of January 2016 associated with Apixaban, Edoxaban, Warfarin, Dabigatran and Rivaroxaban broken down by hospital) be broken down by month (or year, if month is not available)?

I understand I did not initially ask for this information, although it would be of great help. Many thanks for any help you can provide.

MHRA Response

We can confirm that we hold the information you have requested.

It may be helpful to firstly provide some background information to allow interpretation of this data. The Yellow Card scheme is the UK system for collecting and monitoring information on suspected Adverse Drug Reactions (ADRs). The scheme is run by the MHRA and currently relies on voluntary reporting of suspected ADRs by health professionals and patients. There is also a legal obligation for pharmaceutical companies to report serious ADR reports related to their drugs. All reports, including from patients, are reviewed through a signal detection process to identify previously unrecognised concerns about medicines and consider if further action is necessary.

Further to your request, we can confirm the Yellow Card scheme has received a total of 15,578 UK spontaneous suspected ADR reports associated with Apixaban, Edoxaban, Warfarin, Dabigatran and Rivaroxaban between 1st of January 2016 and 5th of March 2026.

You will note this number is fewer than the number of 15,635 that we provided you with in your previous FOI request (FOI 2026/00057) regarding the total number of UK spontaneous suspected ADR reports the Yellow Card Scheme had received associated with Apixaban, Edoxaban, Warfarin, Dabigatran and Rivaroxaban. This is due to an error in the previous response, as that figure was the sum of table 1 provided in the initial response, however, because one case may contain several suspect drugs, the method used to calculate this total was incorrect. We can confirm that the correct total number of reports is 15,578 and we apologise for this discrepancy.

Please see at the end of this letter table 1, which provides the total number of Yellow Card reports received between the 1st of January 2016 and 5th of March 2026 associated with Apixaban, Edoxaban, Warfarin, Dabigatran and Rivaroxaban broken down by month and year.

Please also see the attached spreadsheet which provides the total number of Yellow Card reports received between the 1st of January 2016 and 5th March 2026 associated with Apixaban, Edoxaban, Warfarin, Dabigatran and Rivaroxaban broken down by ICSR NHS Primary care organisation and month and year received. Please note the total number of Yellow Card reports for each individual drug cannot be added up as one report may contain multiple suspect drugs.

Please note the accuracy of this data relies on the postcode being correctly provided by the reporter in the original Yellow Card. Additionally, entering a postal address is not required to submit a report; reporters are required only to provide a contactable address which can be either an email address or postal address. Therefore, this information may not be a complete representation of all reports from this area as reports where the postcode is incorrectly provided or where the reporter has only provided their email address will not be included in this output.

When considering the spontaneous ADR data detailed above, it is important to be aware of the following points:

- A reported reaction does not necessarily mean it has been caused by the medicine or medicinal product, only that the reporter had a suspicion it may have. The fact that symptoms or events occur after use of a product, and are reported via the Yellow Card scheme, does not in itself mean that they are proven to have been caused by the product. Underlying or concurrent illnesses may be responsible and such events can also be coincidental.
- It is also important to note that Yellow Card data cannot be used to determine the incidence of a reaction or to compare the side effect profiles of different medicines or vaccines. ADR reporting rates are influenced by the seriousness of ADRs, their ease of recognition, the extent of use of a particular drug or vaccine and may be stimulated by promotion and publicity about a drug. Reporting tends to be highest for newly introduced medicines or vaccines during the first one to two years on the market and then falls over time.
